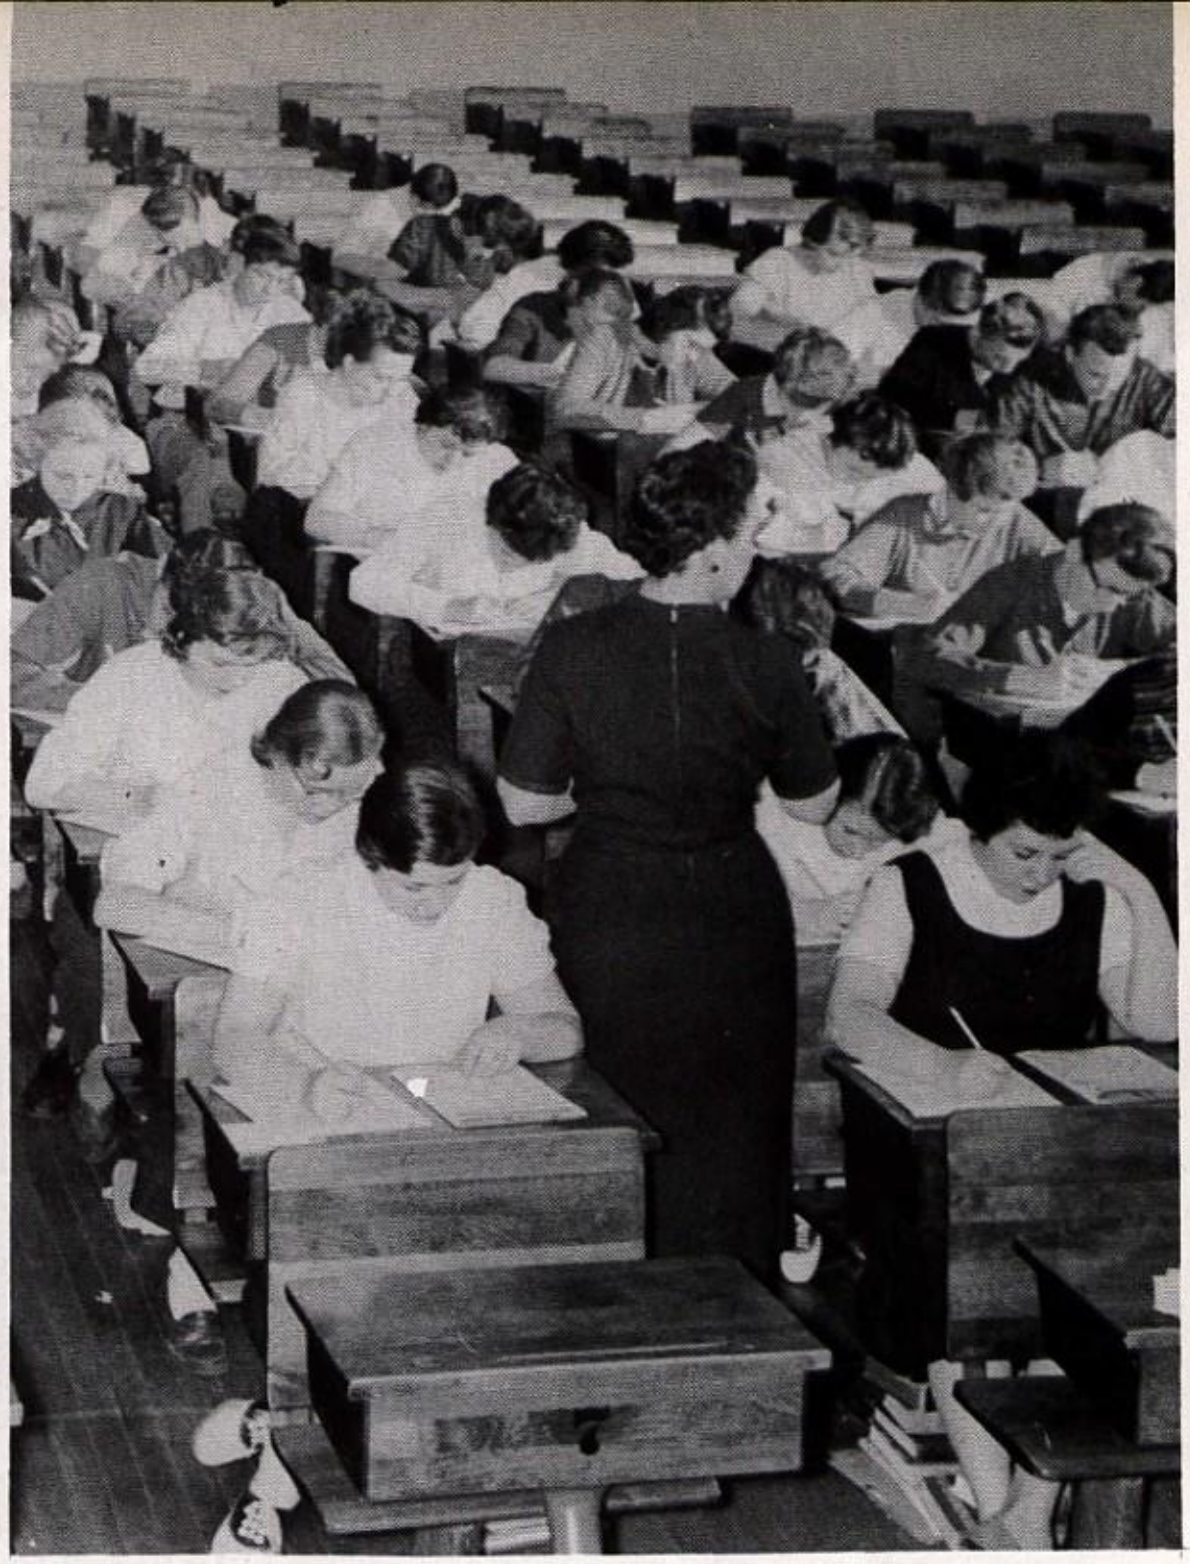
School days, school days, dear old golden rule days.
Credits for college and jobs? See Miss Stone.
Juniors bring toys for initiation;
Sophomores take tests, oh what a chore!
Freshmen learn civics, courthouse explore;
Our feelings of pride we will not hide,
We love all our days at South Side.

suddenly we're seniors, not freshmen



THE BEST YEARS OF OUR LIVES ARE STORED UP FOR US BETWEEN THE PAGES OF OUR 1957 MEMORY BOOK.

mr. earle n. fricker

His praises shall be sung;
Death comes to all,
But great achievements raise a monument
Which shall endure until the sun grows cold.

— Georgius Fabricius

It is only when someone close to us is taken into eternal life that we realize how great a loss his death is and how much we took him for granted. So it was with the sudden death of our principal, Mr. Earle N. Fricker, a man who was an inspiration to everyone who had the pleasure of knowing him . . . A leader who devoted himself to carrying on the noble traditions of South Division. His wise philosophies made an impression on everyone who heard them. His never ending patience and cheerfulness with students and teachers made him a friend to all. We shall remember how truly devoted he was to South when he advised us again and again:

"Dedicate your life by the best, twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week . . . If every student who is privileged to grace the halls of South will so direct his life, we will have kept faith, and our community will continue to be a better place in which to live."

It is with gratitude that we, the students of South Division dedicate this forty-fourth edition of the Cardinal Annual to the memory of our beloved principal, Mr. Earle N. Fricker.

alexander e. morstad

Ringing the old school bell on September 5, Mr. Alexander E. Morstad ushered in a new era as principal of South Division. "I am happy to come back home," he stated when greeting students and teachers in Coblentz hall. Returning to begin his twenty-ninth year of service to the school, Mr. Morstad was absent for three years when he served as vice-principal of Rufus King and as principal of Edison Junior High.

For promoting oratorical contests, for organizing cheerleading, and for faithfully attending sports activities, South's congenial principal received the affectionate title of Mr. South Division before leaving in December, 1952.

To help students make high school years the best ones in life, Mr. Morstad advises, "Plan your course so that you will have definite goals and objectives. Take advantage of opportunities around you. Try to get along with people; be punctual, and above all, as Theodore Roosevelt stated, 'Live a strenuous life.' "

High on the list of ingredients needed to make high school years the best ones in life are the following suggested by Vice-principal Phill May:

"These four wonderful high school years—between our carefree grade school days and graduation time with its added maturity and responsibility! These are years for making life-long friends; establishing habits, plans, and attitudes to guide us. In them, we acquire knowledge and skills for future use; patterns of living are set which will stay with us always."

Mr. May's understanding of youthful problems, his impartial judgment, and his friendly counsel have helped South Divisionites to discover the enduring values of an education.

No. 1 trouble shooter for freshmen, Mr. Conrad Saskowski is swamped with questions from how to get an elevator pass to how to do the rock'n'roll.

Sophisticated Susie and Sammy Sophomore pop questions at Mrs. Mildred Blauert on how to acquire poise, get even with freshmen, and receive straight A's.

To convince Johnny and Joanie Junior that staying in high school and studying hard pays off is Miss Dolores Pederson's most difficult task.

When full-grown senior fledglings leave their feathered South Division nest, Miss Estelle Stone helps them try their wings in the big world.

With the resounding thud of a hard hit practice dummy, the 1956 football season was under way. Coaches John Schram and Pat Jankiewicz started the year with a nucleus of only six returning lettermen.

Highlighting the first game of the season was a spectacular 99-yard touchdown run by fullback Ken Fedor when South battled the Juneau Pioneers to a 13-13 standstill. Bad luck and lack of experience accounted for a 26-6 loss against West Division. Fighting bravely, the Cards bowed to Bay View, 14-8, but their terrific defense paid off in the Tech game to the tune of 6-0.

Unable to score against the title-bound King team, the Cardinals lost their own homecoming, 20-0. As they trounced North Division 36-6, things began to look brighter for the Schram-men. In a thriller at Pulaski stadium, the team romped over their old rivals, the Rams, 40-7. Emerging victorious in the last game of the city conference play, they beat Lincoln, 13-7.

What promised to be a poor season turned out very successfully as South ended up sixth in the city conference, which still placed them in the first division. Tackle Mike Bartholomew was chosen for the first string SENTINEL All-City team.

Out running the defense, halfback Dick Kaluzny sprints for long yardage in the Lincoln game when the Cards charged through the mud.

Tackle Mike Bartholomew copped an All-City berth on the SENTINEL first string and a second on the JOURNAL team.

After bursting through the line for a 20-yard gain, hard-running tailback Dick Ricco is tackled by a Bay View defensive back.

varsity hopefuls show spirit

With spirit bubbling over the Frosh-Soph football team kicked off to usher in their 1956 season. Although they were able to score only one touchdown, the junior gridders showed good potential and an eagerness to play. Excessive penalties and fumbles were some causes of their unimpressive season.

The Yannigans were defeated by Pulaski, 6-0; Juneau, 13-0; Lincoln, 19-0; Tech, 14-6; and played a scoreless tie with Bay View.

"Building star passers and tacklers for the Varsity squad is our main objective," agreed Coaches Robert Lessl and Mark Haight.

KING Michael Bartholomew, QUEEN Susan Thode.

Reigning over the gala homecoming festivities of 1956 were King Michael Bartholomew and Queen Susan Thode. The royal couple presided over the all-school pep rally, the football game, and the dance.

Animated letters of K and S as well as a trumpet, trombone, and saxaphone were formations presented by the band during half time. In bright new Western costumes the flag and baton twirlers also paraded on the field to make loyal hearts flutter and voices ring with true homecoming spirit.

In spite of a 20-0 defeat at the hands of Rufus King, the crowd's never-say-die enthusiasm was continued at the dance the following evening as couples whirled around to the dreamy music of Chuck Howard and his band. When red and white crepe paper streamers and mums drooped low, gals and fellows said farewells to their favorite dance partners.

we roll out the welcome mat — homecoming

"U! Rah! Rah! South Di-vi-sion" echoes throughout the school as the peppy "rocket squad"—Carolyn Kucifer, Arlene Berendt, Colleen Carnahan, Sondra Hjelmberg, JoAnn Sarandos, Sonya Nawrocki, Madelyn Vlasis, and Sandra Wendt—enthusiastically lead fans in rousing cheers. To manage the screaming mob they must leap like modern ballet dancers.

dalers give it the gun and run!

Bang! the gun goes off and toes dig in as the cross-country team opened its '56 season with the Purgolders of Washington. Coach Joe Heineman faced the difficult task of rebuilding the squad with only two returning lettermen, Gary Nelson and Dusan Novakovic.

In the City meet the dalers captured eighth place, and copped eleventh place in the State sectionals. Defeated by Washington, East, and North, the Cardinals entered the win column by trouncing Tech. Edged by Pulaski, the Redman went on to take fifth place in the South Side sectionals.

Ronald Able, Cy Gibas, Gary Nelson, and Dusan Novakovic earned major letters for their fine running. Minors were given to James Burd, John Jozwowski, and Lee McDoniels.

Although running neck and neck to the midway mark, Ronald Able finished a respectable distance ahead of Lee McDoniels.

CROSS-COUNTRY SQUAD

Kneeling: L. McDoniels, G. Nelson, J. Burd, J. Jozwowski, W. Pokora. Standing: R. Abel, Cy Gibas, D. Novakovic, Coach Heineman. With a small turn-out this year's squad was unsuccessful in winning meets, but they fought on with a do-or-die spirit.

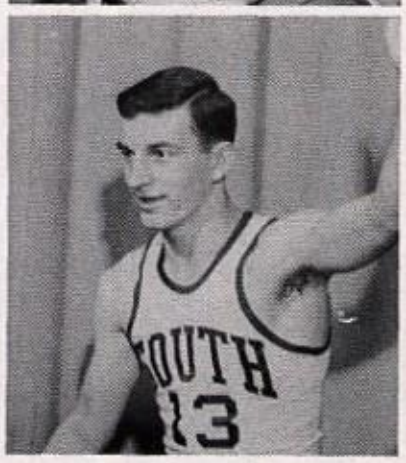
Building the 1957 swimming team around four returning lettermen, Coach Gordon Rojahn found the waves rough as his mermen battled through the season with a 4 and 10 record. The team took third in the little city meet, sixth in the city relays, and eighth in the city meet.

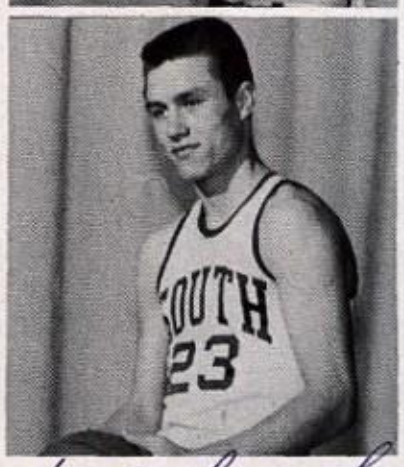
Taking individual honors in the little city meet were Ron Karow fourth, 50 yard free style; Chuck Otter fifth, 200 yard free style; and Frank Procopis fifth, diving. In the city meet Karow took fourth in the 50 yard free style, and Stan Niezgoda took third in the 150 yard individual medley. Of the major emblem winners only Karow and Dennis Forjan will return next year, but Coach Rojahn will have four minor emblem winners to bolster the 1958 squad.

Get ready! Get set! Go! James Urbancic exhibits take off form in the important little city meet where the finmen took third place.

COBLENTZ AWARD

For their outstanding playmaking and scholarship, Raymond Schultz and Allan Mahnke received the Coblentz Award for the 1956-57 basketball season. Raymond was also chosen on the SENTINEL all-city second team.





Have fun this summer, see ya next year.
Allan Mahnke

"City championships? They're here to stay!" was the battle cry of the Cardinal basketball team in winning their fifth straight crown. In pre-season clashes South's hardwooders showed good potential but were nosed out by the Don Bosco five, 57-55. Then they squeezed a victory of 77-75 from a stubborn Notre Dame quintet.

In the city conference opener the Rasinske built machine began to roll when Bay View fell before the fast breaking Redbirds 78-57. The next unlucky quintet to crumble was Juneau, who was completely outplayed 62-51. Then came the East five, who pulled some surprise punches, but were nosed out 79-78 in a real barnburner, and after that the Pulaski lads were slapped down 66-46. Rufus King also tried to pull an upset, but the Rasinskemen squeezed through 79-78. To put a black smudge on the Cards' record, the North Stars created havoc with South's offense in the first half of their game and went on to hand the title hungry five their only conference defeat, 62-60.

After two easy victories over West and Custer, 84-53 and 87-79 respectively, the Cards cinched a title tie with King by pounding home a 60-56 win over Tech. To take an undisputed championship the deadly locals slaughtered Lincoln 89-69. Going on to the sctional at Mukwanago, the Cardinals slaughtered Greendale 79-47, but were defeated by Pulaski 62-61, thus eliminating themselves from the state tournament. Raymond Schultz set a new free throw record with a percentage of 79.3.

Sneaking between West players, junior guard Ken Fedor shoots and tallies. Speed, faking, and accuracy like this enabled the team to chalk up their consecutive city championship.

Twisting under the hoop, guard Robert Odeja adds another important field goal as a King player leaps in vain. The Rasinskemen handed King its first defeat in a 79-78 thriller.

This year's squad set a new conference record in city basketball history by winning their fifth consecutive city basketball championship. "Their fine fighting spirit carried them through their rugged schedule," commented Coach Rasinske, as he handed aut honors on athletic honor day.

FROSH-SOPH BASKETBALL

Coach Pat Jankiewicz's junior hoopsters broke even this season with a 5-6 record. The eleven game schedule netted them a total of 389 points for an average of 35.3 points a game on offense while defensively they allowed 449 points for an average of 40.8 points a game.

"The team had height and excellent spirit which carried them through in fine form," commented Coach Jankiewicz. They defeated Bay View, East, King, Washington, and Custer; but mistakes due to inexperience pushed them into a mediocre sixth place tie with Lincoln. Carrying a large part of the scoring load for the Yannigans were James Kruk, James Kucifer, John Hashek, and David Woda.

"This year's team, composed mostly of sophomores and juniors, made a fine showing," commented Coach Robert Lessel. "Just wait till next year."

Finishing the season with seven wins against four losses, Cardinal matmen found that hours of practicing holds and learning new attacks paid off in a satisfactory record.

In the state sectionals South placed six wrestlers. William Nehrkorn 147 lbs. took first; Duane Halvorsen 167 lbs, Richard Johnson 157 lbs., and John Kapsos 122 lbs. took seconds; Mike Bartholomew heavyweight and James Burd 114 lbs. took fourths. Four grapplers qualified for the state meet at Madison; they were Nehrkorn, Kapsos, Johnson, and Halvorsen.

Highlighting the season was a city championship won by John Kapsos and the 50 to 0 victory over Bay View. This win was the only perfect score in the conference this season.

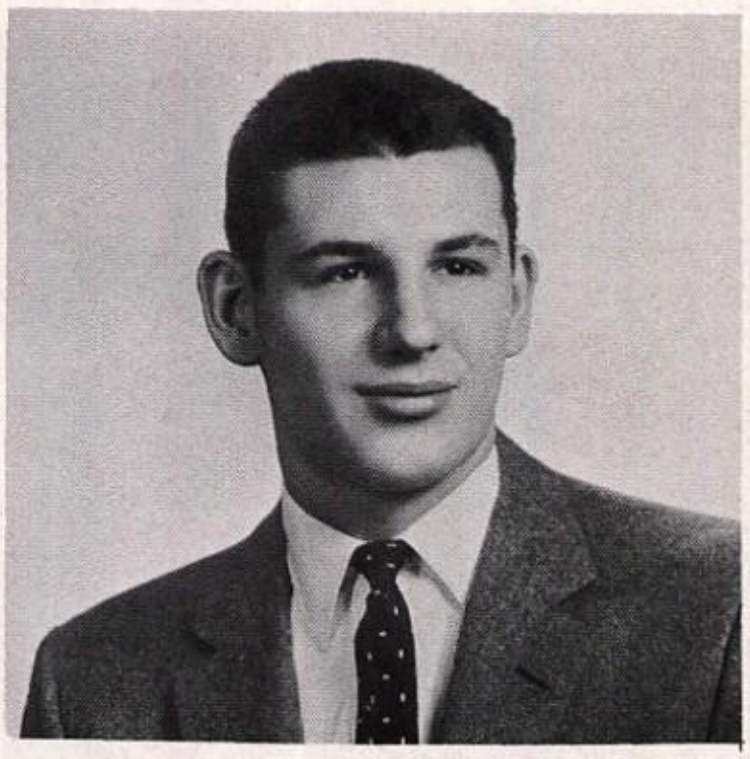
With returning lettermen C. Linski, outfielder; M. Bartholomew, pitcher; J. Newbauer, first base; A. Ruments, right field; L. Czubinski, second base; and J. Kruk, short stop, Coach Ralph Nowicki hopes to build a championship nine. "In preseason practice the boys have been hitting and fielding well and show a good fighting spirit to meet tough competition," stated the coach.

Stickmen A. Ruments, C. Linski, J. Kruk, M. Bartholomew, and J. Newbauer watch attentively as L. Czubinski goes through the fundamentals of handling a glove in early spring trainings.



For his outstanding and versatile play as captain, pitcher, and first baseman, James Poplawski was awarded the Crout Memorial trophy as the most valuable player of the 1956 season.

cleatsters create dust clouds

Although the 1956 track team lost all their dual meets, Allan Polakowski, pole vaulter, and George Morrison, miler, chalked up fine performances. Morrison took the city mile with a near record time 4:32.3 and went on to capture top honors in the state meet the next week. Coach Joseph Heineman built his 1957 team around two returning major emblem winners, Wayne Pokora and Cy Gibas.

gals get ready for s.d.h.s. olympics

Placing first in the cadet class in a city-wide free throw trournament, sponsored by the Municipal Recreation department, sophomore Diane Jacoby (second from right) sank 20 baskets out of 25. Second place went to junior Opal Skenandore (not pictured). Coached by gym teacher Miss Ellen Tronnier, the girls practiced after school.

"U! Rah! Rah! South Division," was the cry heard during the cheer-leading clinic held in the girls' gym, March 18-29. During one week 110 students turned out to learn the various jumps and hand motions that make one a good cheerleader. Although the candidates were aware that only 10 could be chosen, they worked hard under the direction of veteran Sondra Hjelmberg (right) toward the final tryout day, April 5.

After mastering the fundamentals in the grils' gym, bowling enthusiasts acquire more skills at the Mitchell Recreation center. Under the direction of Miss Esther Kagel, gym teacher, seniors Barbara Nell and Carol Budzien compete for top scores. Other sports offered are volleyball, swimming, tennis, golf, tumbling, badminton, archery, and softball.

"South Division is a school of and for ladies and gentlemen."
—Mr. Earle N. Fricker

Fluttering feminine hearts and blushing young gentlemen anxiously awaited the social highlight of the year, the junior-senior prom Friday, May 10.

Soft weeping willows lined the shores of "Moonlight Bay," the girls' gym, as the prom goers, dressed in a symphony of pastels, strolled over a make-believe pier and glided to the enchanting music of Chuck Howard and his band. A huge golden moon shimmering down from the ceiling put sparkles in the eyes of the waltzing couples. Reigning over the evening festivities were Queen Carol Walczykowski, King Raymond Schultz, and their regal court.

As the dancing hours at school ended, the happy couples were police-escorted to the Allen-Bradley company where the South-Side Lions club entertained with more dancing, delicious food, and fun. All too soon the first streaks of dawn pulled the shades down on treasured memories. "As we danced love's old sweet song on Moonlight Bay" will sing in their hearts always.

harvest festival brings pumpkin coaches

Beneath fluttering leaves, gliding witches, and a mellow moon students and their friends got in a dancing mood at the first Harvest Festival held at South on Saturday, November 17. Relaxing waltzes of Chuck Howard's dance band in the girls' gym and the swinging music of John Schultz's polka band in the boys' gym brought the smallest "greenies" and the most sophisticated seniors to their feet for an evening of fun and frolic.

During the intermission square dancing teams under Miss Esther Kagel's direction caught the attention of couples in the girls' gym, which was converted into the "Harvest Hideaway." Singing performances by Tana DiMeo and Elaine Varichak, the girls' sextette, the A choir, and the men's chorus also helped to rest tired feet. Dreamy-eyed romancers bought refreshments and made their wishes over the old-fashioned well under the big orange moon in the cafeteria, otherwise known as "Colonial Gardens."

Before the ghostly hour of midnight struck, young couples bundled up to brave the sharp autumn winds and the eerie spirits of the dark. It was a night to remember.

Men's quartet John Semancik, Kenneth Gawrysiak, Michael Bartholomew, Richard Kaluzny were four jolly sailors on a European tour.

Big baby doll pantomine by Nancy May and Veronica Lenski (under doll); tap dancers Judy Premetz, Darby Markiewicz (kneeling); vocalist Tana DiMeo (center); guitarist John Kendziorski, and Spanish dancer Lona Kirkland added humor, romance to show.

Doing a boogie tap dance were cheerleaders Madelyn Vlasis, Sonya Nawrocki, Sondra Hjelmberg, Colleen Carnahan, Carolyn Kucifer, Kathryn Mlynczak, Sandra Wendt.

Combo group John Semancik, Roger Ricco, August Wolff, Robert Zubek, Sylvester Gibas furnished background music. Cardinalaires Sharon Sauser, Enid Skripka, Elaine Varichak, Esther Gruhn, Joan Schaefer, Carol Engel played roles of petite waitresses in a French cafe.

Student Council is a good many things to a good many people. To the community it is the official school organization for service; to the faculty it is a reliable group of assistant administrators; to loyal students it is the sounding board for teen-age opinions. Meeting every Wednesday, the ninety members discuss problems involving South Division government and policy.

Behind-the-scene operations are conducted by the steering committee, the executive backbone of the organization, composed of five members, one from each grade level plus club representatives. This group was instrumental in instituting the hallpass system and in arranging a dress up day. Other projects were promoting an auto safety program and adopting a homecoming activities policy.

◀ Under the competent direction of faculty advisers Mr. Bertus Boone and Miss Ethel Glassner, representatives from each homeroom and club play an important role in formulating South Division's rules and regulations.

To the many business and civic organizations in Milwaukee, the Inter High School Council is the authoritative organ of students' viewpoints. Preparing and printing football programs was the first project of the fall meetings. Under the direction of the Kiwanis club and the Sentinel, the Inter-Hi assisted in presenting the Milwaukee area Youth Rally in the Arena, September 17.

During the spring Inter-Hi members undertook two major activities. First, they acted as lobbyists at the state legislature in Madison to secure passage of a bill making parents responsible for acts of vandalism committed by their children. Also a committee of three, headed by William Raduege, promoted passage of the school bond referendum.

"The chair recognizes Miss Dale Horner," states president Donald Ott as he opens a discussion on organizing a dramatics club. Nods and smiles reveal eagerness of members to debate the issue.

Punctuality is their watchword. Every delegate rises early to be on time for the weekly meetings in room 326 and to vote pro or con on problems pertinent to the entire student body.

Solving Student Council problems in executive session, the first semester steering committee guided fellow delegates through legislative difficulties. Members were Carol Drenzek, sophomore; Nancy Patconak, senior; John Elias, junior; Margo Flores, senior; William Raduege, senior; Virginia Wall, freshman.

Inter-Hi representatives Esther Gruhn and William Raduege worked with adviser Miss Helen Steel of Bay View to keep South's student governing body working together with other city high school councils.

"That's a pretty good feature story," comments club editor Patricia Michels to print shop editor William Burke and copy editor Lois Amann as they look over the Easter issue.

Rosalie Hendricks, business manager (seated); Judith Peterson, bookkeeper; and Marion Lorenz, manager. Their jobs are to see that the ads go on the page correctly and correspond with the copy.

"Why don't I just cut out?" might well have been in the mind of editor-in-chief Nancy Gustafson, viewing extra copy that must be eliminated. Associate editor Barbara Kobs worried and fretted over missing stories for the second page. As copy editor Lois Amann and print shop editor William Burke checked proof, they wondered how the printer could make so many corrections.

"Somebody's going to get shot if that story isn't in," was one of club editor Patricia Michels' favorite quips when a story was missing. "You can't put all those ads on my page," was one of sports editor Richard Miller's pet commands.

One of the newspaper staff's big disappointments of the second semester was losing the trophy to the yearbook bowling aces in a one-sided match at the Greenfield Bowl.

JANUARY GRADUATES

Cecelie Lenko and John Speckin, members of the art and literary staffs respectively, finished up their work with a smile.

Always laughing at the pranks of her fellow staff members, second semester editor Joyce Mott had her assistants in stitches when she did imitations. But "Mott-o" shook the big stick when deadline dates approached.

With T-square, drawing board, and a two foot pile of pictures, art editor Jim Hansen checked and drew layouts. Jimmy also took care of the food cabinet during parties in the Annual room. Associate art editor, tiny Nancy Patconak, boomed, "All right, slaves, get to work on those club layouts!"

"Oh, those crazy deadlines," moaned Ruth Ann Johnson and Christa Reckner, co-copy editors. Papers flew as the girls checked names and stories.

"All right, who has the copy for the swimming team?" wonders sports editor, Tom Konke, perched in a corner.

annual artists 'drawed' dummy

Robert Brown, industrious newcomer; Joyce Houdek, reliable veteran, (Some of us have been here a long time!) Frances Brezovar, worth her weight in gold; Dennis Holak, the long printer.

Rose Marie Cera, thinks artistically about a new layout, as Patricia Tomasczak hopes for an inspiration. Pat has been on the staff for two years, while Rosie is a newcomer.

"Pff!" says Leona Kawczynski "the art staff is not artless;" while Judith Hitesman is thinking about another one of her terrific ideas for a design.

"Learning while we're doing" may well be the motto of the Cardinal Annual art staff. Creating original layouts, these artists had the practical experience of learning about the composition of pages and drawing up their own work.

Veteran Cecelie Lenko concentrated on the opening and closing of this year's book. Faculty was the main concern of Joyce Houdek, who also worked with Rose Marie Cera to get variety into the difficult homeroom section. Judy Hitesman's second year was occupied with the problem of turning out fresh designs for club pages while Leona Kawczynski dashed off snappy sports layouts.

"Music, music, music" ran through the mind of Robert Brown as he originated fitting pages for band, orchestra, and A choir. Patricia Tomasczak treated the Harvest Festival in a bright way. Newcomers Dennis Holat and Frances Brezovar, who joined the staff in midyear, assisted in drawing up layouts.

"There goes Joyce again," laughed reporters Sharon La Mar, William Nehrkorn, and Mark Bandoszewski as they caught some of Miss Editor's antics while checking last year's Annual.

"Hey! Someone write that caption!" shouts an editor. "It's almost writ!" is the defiant reply. Good old 112, the Annual room, is one of the most fun filled chambers in South. Editors boom orders only to get sharp answers, but it's all in good humor, and the deadlines are always met.

Familiar sounds in 112—click, click, click —a typist is at it again . . . buzz of voices . . . proofreaders are mumbling . . . a scream of a frightened crew member—another practical joke . . . rustle of paper—a would-be story hits the wastebasket . . . munch, glub, munch, glub—the staffers are having another snack.

Seriously, finding the exact words for the space allotted in the dummy, writing sparkling headlines and captions, verifying names, and measuring pictures for bleeds train amateur journalists to be sticklers for accuracy. Receiving a first class honor rating, however, is reward enough for all the work that goes into publishing the yearbook.

BAND

Raising of instruments, silence, and a sudden burst of music told South audiences that the smartly clad Cardinal band was on the job to bring pleasure at football games, Caperee, and honor day programs. Following the energetic baton of director Edward Terrill, the 65 musicians rehearsed daily for the city-wide tournament and grade school concert.

On various occasions band members formed their own ensembles and played for the Vieau and Kagel grade schools and the Harvest Festival dance. These experiences gave them a chance to earn valuable service points. After passing rigid tryouts in January, 20 members were selected for the All-City Biennial Music Festival.

With heads held high, South drum major Donald Ott, and prancing majorettes Clara Wagner, Dorothy Loncaric, and Patricia Kulwicki brought crowds to their feet during halftime at games.

BAND SERVICE AWARDS—January

Karen Knops and Gerald Sauer earned band emblem awards for their outstanding service in the field of music. To be awarded with an emblem one has to be a member of the band for six or more semesters, and must give excellent service.

BAND SERVICE AWARDS—January

concert master kelbe's syncopated serenaders

"Play, fiddles, play," encouraged Mr. Harold Kelbe, Toscanini of South, as he drilled the orchestra on the "March of the Meistersingers." Practicing for the Walter Allen P.T.A. program, the grade school appreciation concert, and the athletic banquet stimulated the group to secure that mellow tone and to develop good public relations with organizations in the community. Rehearsing everything from "pop-standards to long hair" the orchestra presented its favorite selections at the annual Spring Concert in Coblentz hall. Dressed in fluffy pastel formals and smartly tailored suits, they made an extra effort to give parents and friends a gala evening of entertainment.

With harmony in their hearts and melodies on their lips, silk-robed members of the A choir won smiles and encores at the Veterans' Day program and United Nations observance. Mr. Kelbe's sunny singers also added to the enjoyment of South Division Civic Association members at their monthly meetings and contributed to various Advancement association programs throughout the year. More than half the members were selected to sing in a massed choir at the Auditorium in May as a part of the All-City Music Festival.

Refinishing of desks in Miss Estelle Stone's classroom didn't disrupt her algebra 4 students. The boys' lunchroom, supplied with a portable blackboard, served as an appropriate substitute.

Much needed face-liftings for student desks is begun by an ambitious carpenter. Wooden surfaces are sanded to remove scratches and impressions carved on them through the years.

Then the desks must be carefully varnished and dried. To restore each one costs twelve dollars, but the final result is a classroom that looks as good as new.

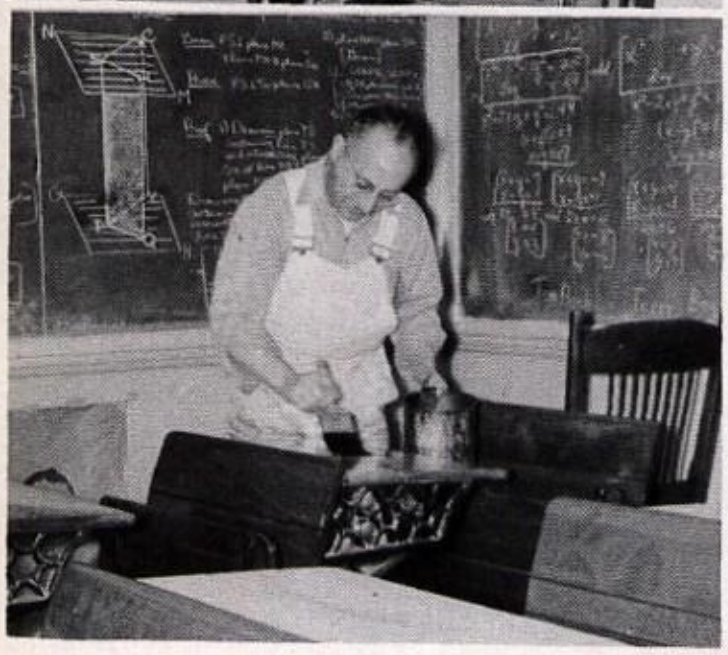
Senior Adela Keller gave a demonstration of fencing to members of one o Miss Margery Barry's English literature classes in connection with their study of Shakespeare's "Hamlet." John Muhich was her opponent.



Glancing up from a civics book, seniors William Raduege and Joyce Houdek are happy to hear news of their winning third place in the Elks test on the United States Constitution.

"Come and get your St. Patrick's Day favors," call members of the International Friendship club. The profits from this sale were used to send CARE packages overseas.

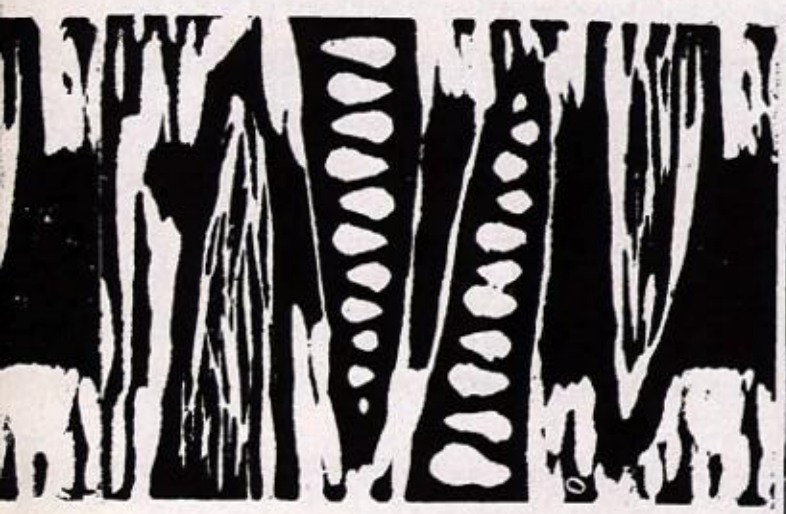
prancing models twirl, swirl for cheers

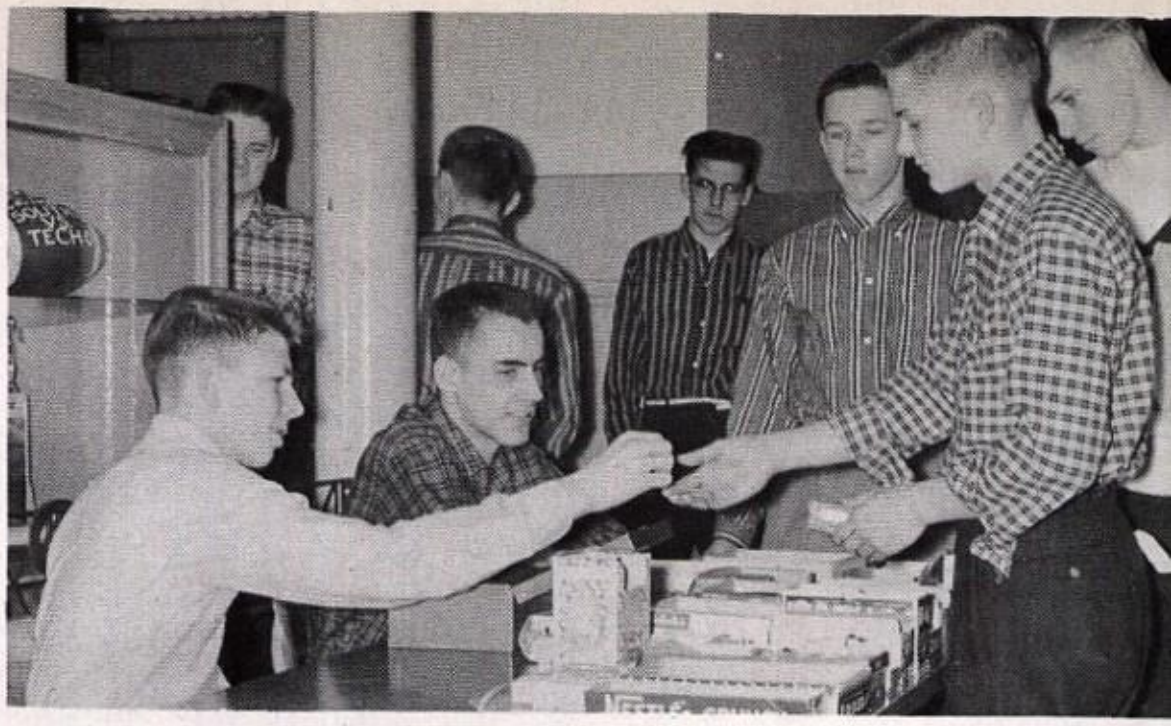


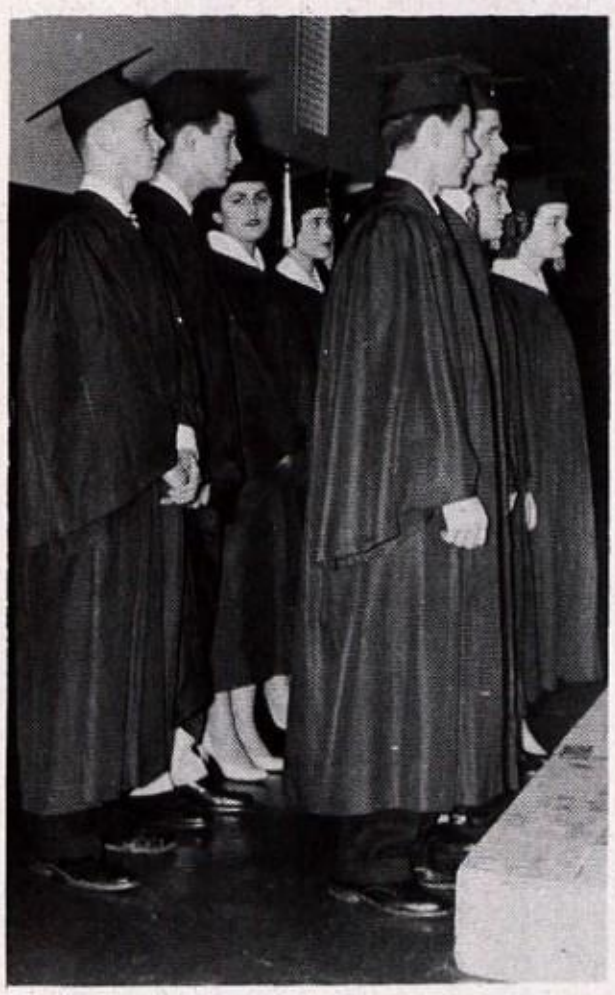
Strutting smartly in costumes of the "Wild-and-woolly West" complete from red felt hats to short fringed skirts, the high stepping Cardinal Twirlers took their theme for this year's basketball routine from their Western attire. Besides twirling at basketball and football games, the girls can also boast of strutting down Wisconsin avenue in the 1955 Christmas parade. The first group of its kind in Wisconsin, they were recently featured in the rotogravure section of the MILWAUKEE JOURNAL.

Organized by Mr. Robert Rose, former teacher at South, the group was introduced to the school at the Homecoming game in 1955. As regular as "Old Faithful," the Twirlers, flashing red and white flags, livened up the boys' gym at 7:30 every morning to the strains of "Oklahoma" and "Giant." These early birds practiced catching their batons while others were catching up on sleep.

Sally Prijic, Darlene Bretsch, Ruth Ann Johnson, Ilse Zvers, Barbara Burns, Margaret Weber, Joyce Pawlowski, Rita Koefler, Dale Horner, Carol Budzien.

Patricia Michels, Sharon Milczarek, Patricia Muhich, Nancy Patconak, Margo Flores, Marianne Stempniewski, Judy Sienko, Carol Engel, Marilyn Senchyshyn, Karen Harding. At every game a graduating senior was given a chance to put the group through its paces.





Industrial leaders turn back the clocks and attend high school again.

"No candy bargains today." Student Council does rush business.

With hooray's! and boo! hoo's! January grads take the last lap.

Music director of the American Broadcasting company, Mr. Ralph Herrmann (at the piano) visits his alma mater.

Freshman, sophomore girls put on the feed bags in lunch room 35.

"Yea, South! Pulverize Pulaski!" rooters shout at Mukwanago sectional tournament.

Donald Ott makes a quick get-away as Annual staff puts on last dabs to meet a deadline.

"Nancy, you goofed," laughs art editor James Hansen, jumping to rescue an important picture.

Alumnus Kenneth W. Haagensen "boozes" from his office as director of public relations at Allis Chalmers to see how speech is taught.

COUNSELOR

The 1957 Cardinal staff gratefully acknowledges the co-operation offered by the school administrators, the faculty, and the student body.

Special recognition is given to Miss Margery Barry, literary adviser; Miss Aurelia Hogan, assistant literary adviser; Mrs. Robert Fiedler, art adviser; Mr. Edward McGarty, photography adviser; Mrs. Lillian Dowling and Mr. Floyd Hanneman, business advisers, for their valuable counsel; and to Mr. Robert S. Rummler, Myers Yearbooks representative; Mr. Robert McCoy, and Mr. Robert Lingenfelder, commercial photographers; Mr. William Pfitzinger, North American Press representative, for their assistance.

To these individuals and to the loyal ninety-seven per cent of the student body who subscribed to the Annual, the entire staff expresses their appreciation for making the production of the 1957 yearbook a happy and worth-while experience.
